Site Growth Playbook: QualifiedLeadsX

qualifiedleadsx.com · Monday, 9 November 2026 · branch claude/qualified-leadx-seo-15g7kc

Summary

- 146 URLs audited from the production build; 112 are indexable. After this week's fixes: 0 titles over 60 characters, 0 meta descriptions over 155, 0 keyword collisions, 0 pages with fewer than 5 internal links in, 1 H1 on every page, every page within 2 clicks of the home page, all text server-rendered.
- The one remaining audit problem is thin content: 49 indexable pages have under 300 unique words (mostly industry, service-for-industry and case-study pages). Weeks 2 to 5 of the rollout fix these with the templates below.
- Built and live on the branch (week 1): sitemap index plus core, industries, locations and content sitemaps; related-links block above the footer on every page; robots.txt naming Googlebot, Bingbot and the AI crawlers; llms.txt rebuilt to the playbook spec; 7 over-length titles shortened, 6 colliding titles rewritten and 18 meta descriptions shortened.
- Planned: 120 pages in the plan, including 30 new pages: 1 core (/pricing), a /locations hub plus 4 country pages, 10 service-for-industry pages, 5 tools and 8 blog posts.
- Location pages are limited on purpose. QualifiedLeadsX serves the US, UK, Canada and Australia remotely and has no local offices. The plan has 4 country pages; a city page is built only where a real client or result exists. That rule follows the playbook: no pages for places not served, and no fake offices.
- Nothing was invented. 23 business facts are marked [fill in] (section 8). The pages that depend on them must not go live until the facts are supplied and a person has edited them.

Source files: reports/playbook-audit.csv, reports/playbook-page-plan.csv and docs/growth-playbook/. Regenerate the audit after each build with `python3 -I scripts/playbook-audit.py`, and the plan with `python3 -I scripts/playbook-plan.py`.

1. Audit table (STEP 1)

Every URL in the production build. Page type follows the playbook, plus "company/legal (proof)" for case studies. Unique words are text blocks that do not repeat on 5 or more pages. "Internal links in" counts other pages linking to the URL. Rows marked "keep (noindex)" or "keep (canonicalised)" are intentional and appear in no sitemap.

2. Page plan (STEP 2 and STEP 6)

Grouped by page type, in build order. Every title is 60 characters or fewer and every meta description 155 or fewer; the scripts check this. No two pages share a primary keyword. Keywords come from the existing titles and the Search Console queries the site already gets. OpenSEO had no credits for volume data, so check the new-page keywords against Google autocomplete and People Also Ask before building. Hubs: /services, /locations (new), /for (the industries hub; the URL is kept so no redirect is needed), /tools and /blog.

3. Page templates and example pages (STEP 3)

These are the five page templates filled in for QualifiedLeadsX. Every page built from them must be at least 40% unique. A page that only swaps the city or industry name is a doorway page: do not publish it.

Facts every template can use (all already on the live site):

- Done-for-you client acquisition: Meta ads, funnels, CRM, AI follow-up and appointment setting
- $50M+ managed in Meta ads, 12+ years of experience, 125+ documented case studies across 30+ niches
- Two plans, both custom quotes: Meta Ads Management, and Full-Service Growth
- 90-day written guarantee: if the agreed milestones are not reached in 90 days, work continues with no management fee until they are
- Clients own the ad account, funnels, CRM, automations, creatives and data
- Remote service in the United States, United Kingdom, Canada and Australia
- Registered address: Ecom Expertz LLC, Sheridan, Wyoming. There are no local offices.
- Founder: Gaurav, Founder and Head of Acquisition

Anything else is written as [fill in] and listed in `07-fill-in-facts.md`.

Shared rules for every template:

- One H1, which holds the primary keyword
- Title of 60 characters or fewer: keyword first, then " | QualifiedLeadsX™" when it fits
- Meta description of 155 characters or fewer, ending in a call to action
- Text is server-rendered, so it shows with JavaScript off
- The related-links block is added automatically above the footer by `lib/related-links.ts`

1. Location page: `/locations/[country]` (and `/locations/[city]` only where real)

Scope rule. QualifiedLeadsX works remotely and has no local office anywhere. The four country pages are allowed because the business serves those countries. A city page is allowed only when there is a real client or result from that city [fill in]. Never add `LocalBusiness` schema or an address on these pages.

Lead Generation Agency for United States Businesses

QualifiedLeadsX is a done-for-you lead generation agency for US coaches, consultants, agencies and B2B service firms that sell offers of $3,000 to $25,000. We run the Meta ads, build the funnel, set up the CRM and AI follow-up, and book qualified sales calls on your calendar. We work remotely across all 50 states. Pricing is a custom quote after a free 30-minute strategy call, and every engagement comes with a 90-day written guarantee.

Why US businesses choose QualifiedLeadsX

We have run US ad accounts for a long time. QualifiedLeadsX has managed more than $50M in Meta ad spend across 125+ documented client accounts, and much of that spend was in the United States [fill in: share of spend or number of US clients]. US auctions are the most expensive of the four markets we serve, so wasted spend costs more. In 2026 we see tier-1 CPMs average about $24.50, rising to $36.80 to $54.20 in Q4 when ecommerce bidding peaks (Meta ads CPM benchmarks). We plan launches and creative tests around those quarters.

We cover US hours. New leads get an automated reply in under 5 minutes, at any hour. Human appointment setters work [fill in: setter coverage hours in ET/PT]. Sales calls are booked into your own calendar in your time zone.

We know the US compliance rules. US campaigns for financial services, real estate and some health services fall under Meta's Special Ad Categories. These categories limit targeting by age, gender and postcode. We build creative and qualification steps that work inside those limits, so a financial advisor or real estate investor campaign does not get rejected after launch.

You own everything. The ad account, funnels, CRM, automations, creatives and data stay in your name. If you stop working with us, you keep the whole system.

Lead generation for US industries

These are the industries we serve most often in the US. Each page explains how the system changes for that industry.

- Lead generation for coaches: business, executive and fitness coaches selling programs in the US

- Lead generation for consultants: strategy, operations and management consultancies
- Lead generation for agencies: marketing and service agencies selling retainers
- Lead generation for B2B SaaS: demo booking for SaaS with a sales-assisted motion
- Lead generation for med spas: aesthetics clinics, inside Meta's health ad policies
- Lead generation for law firms: case intake for practice areas where a case is worth the spend

Until a US case study is approved for this page, use the closest documented result and label it clearly:

Result from a service agency client (country not stated in the case study): 235 clients closed at a $3,600 average deal, for $846,000 in 2025, using Meta ads, qualification and structured follow-up. Read the case study.

Result from an AI SaaS client: 320 customers and $71,934 in 24 days after the ideal customer profile, ad angles and funnel were rebuilt. Read the case study.

FAQ

Do you have an office in my state? No. QualifiedLeadsX works fully remotely. Our registered business address is in Sheridan, Wyoming, and all client work happens over video calls, shared dashboards and your own ad account.

How much does it cost to generate a booked sales call in the US? Across our managed accounts, a qualified booked call for a $3,000 to $25,000 offer usually costs $90 to $180. Larger consulting offers often cost $180 to $280 per attended call. See cost per booked call benchmarks for the breakdown by offer size.

Can you run ads in only a few states or cities? Yes. Meta lets us target states, cities or radius areas. The exception is Special Ad Category campaigns (credit, housing, employment, some financial products), where Meta enforces a minimum radius. We set up the campaign to fit those rules.

Which time zone are calls booked in? Calls are booked into your calendar in your local time zone. The AI follow-up replies around the clock. Human setters work [fill in].

How fast can we launch? Most builds take [fill in] weeks from the strategy call to live ads, depending on how much of the funnel and creative already exists.

Is the 90-day guarantee valid for US clients? Yes. The written guarantee applies to every client, whatever country they are in.

Meta Ads for Agencies

Most agencies get clients from referrals, and growth stops when the referrals do. Meta ads can replace that with a steady flow of booked calls from business owners who already want help. Running ads for your own agency is different from running them for clients, though. The buyer is skeptical, the offer is intangible, and one closed retainer has to pay for weeks of spend. Below is how we run Meta ads for agencies, and what the results look like.

Why agencies need Meta ads for their own growth

Referrals do not scale. A referral pipeline grows with your network, not with your capacity. When you hire, you need new clients on a schedule. Referrals arrive when they arrive.

Your buyers are on Facebook and Instagram. The owners of the businesses you serve, such as coaches, clinics, ecommerce brands and local service firms, use Meta every day. Broad targeting with strong creative finds them more cheaply than LinkedIn for most agency offers. In 2026 we see tier-1 CPMs average about $24.50 outside Q4 (Meta ads CPM benchmarks).

One retainer pays for a lot of testing. At a $3,000 to $5,000 monthly retainer, a qualified booked call usually costs $95 to $160 in our accounts (cost per booked call benchmarks). A few closed clients a month cover the ad spend many times over.

Proof is the product. Agencies sell results, and ads let you show them: case-study creative, client video testimonials and live ad account walkthroughs.

What we do for agencies

1. Offer and niche audit. We check which client niche and offer your case studies can prove. "We help med spa agencies book consults" converts. "Full-service digital marketing" does not.
2. Proof-led creative. We make 40 to 100+ creatives: founder-to-camera videos, client results, screen recordings of real dashboards and objection-handling ads. Most agency ads fail on creative, not targeting.

3. Qualifying funnel. We build a 3 to 5 page funnel with a short VSL, a case-study page and an application form. The form asks about revenue, budget and decision-maker status, so tire-kickers do not reach your calendar.
4. Speed to lead and setting. New applicants get a reply in under 5 minutes by SMS, email and WhatsApp. Qualified applicants are booked straight into your calendar (appointment setting for agencies).
5. Weekly optimization. We track cost per booked call, show rate and close rate. Then we change angles, audiences and follow-up, not just budgets.

Opportunities agencies should target

- Niche-specific angles. "Patient acquisition for med spas" beats "Facebook ads services".
- Result-led hooks. Use a specific number from a real client, such as "$639K in two months for a med spa agency", with permission.
- Low-ticket entry offers. A paid audit, workshop or template can pay back the ad spend before the retainer sale. See our low-ticket offer case studies.
- Retargeting with proof. Show case-study videos to people who watched 50% of your VSL or started the application.
- Search-intent phrases to support with content: "how to get clients for my agency", "facebook ads for marketing agencies", "agency lead generation".

Results

Service agency (labelled as a general agency result): 235 clients closed at a $3,600 average deal, for $846,000 in 2025, with Meta ads, qualification and structured follow-up. Read the case study.

Med spa marketing agency: $639,000 in two months, with 1,116 conversations still open, using Meta ads, qualification and appointment setting. Read the case study.

Agency client, retargeting session: an agency doing $85K a month and tracking toward $95K+, broken down live in Ads Manager. Read the case study.

Mistakes agencies make with their own Meta ads

1. Selling services instead of outcomes. "SEO, ads and web design" gives the buyer nothing to picture. A niche and a result do.
2. Sending cold traffic to a calendar. Without an application step, close rates on unvetted bookings fall to 9% to 14% (close rate benchmarks).
3. Slow follow-up. An application left for a day is usually lost. Reply in under 5 minutes.
4. Too few creatives. Two or three ads burn out within weeks. Agencies need a steady creative pipeline, just like their clients.
5. Judging on cost per lead. Cheap leads that never book cost more than expensive leads that close. Track cost per booked call and cost per client.

FAQ

Should an agency run Meta ads or LinkedIn ads to get clients? For agencies that serve owner-led small and mid-size businesses, Meta usually delivers booked calls at a lower cost. LinkedIn can work for enterprise-only agencies with large deal sizes. We test Meta first because the feedback loop is faster.

How much ad spend does an agency need? It depends on your retainer and close rate. Work backwards from the number of clients you want with the cost per booked call calculator. [fill in: minimum monthly ad spend QualifiedLeadsX recommends for agencies]

Will you run ads in my agency's name or yours? In yours. The ad account, pixel, funnel, CRM and creatives belong to you.

How long until we see booked calls? Most agency campaigns book their first qualified calls within [fill in] of launch. Results become stable after enough creative testing, which usually takes [fill in].

Can you also handle the sales calls? Yes. We provide outsourced sales closers for agencies that want the whole pipeline handled.

Pricing: Meta Ads Management and Full-Service Growth

QualifiedLeadsX has two plans: Meta Ads Management, and Full-Service Growth, which covers ads, funnel, follow-up and booking. What's included

Meta Ads Management

- Ad account audit and setup, including pixel and Conversions API tracking
- Campaign strategy: offer angles, audiences, budgets
- Creative: [fill in: number of creatives per month on this plan]
- Weekly optimization and reporting on cost per lead, cost per booked call and ROAS

FAQ

Why don't you publish a fixed price? The work for a $3,000 coaching offer and a $25,000 consulting engagement is very different. We quote after the strategy call so you pay for the scope you need. [fill in: change this answer if a price is published]

Is ad spend included? No. Ad spend goes from your card to Meta. Our fee covers strategy, creative, funnel, follow-up and management.

Is there a minimum contract? [fill in: minimum term, notice period]

What do I need before we start? An offer that has already sold, a way to deliver it, and someone to take the sales calls, or our closers.

How do I know what a booked call should cost? For $3,000 to $25,000 offers, a qualified booked call usually costs $90 to $180 in our accounts. Model your own numbers with the cost per booked call calculator.

What happens if we stop working together? You keep everything: ad account, funnels, CRM, automations, creatives and data.

Do you offer a pay-per-appointment model? [fill in: yes or no, and terms]

Calculator specification

Inputs (defaults in brackets, taken from the live benchmark pages):

1. New clients wanted per month (4)
2. Close rate on booked calls, % (25; setter-qualified calls close at 24% to 31% for $5K to $10K offers)
3. Show rate, % (70) [fill in: confirm default against /benchmarks/show-rate]
4. Cost per booked call, $ (130; the benchmark is $90 to $180)

Outputs:

- Calls to book = clients ÷ close rate ÷ show rate
- Monthly ad budget = calls to book × cost per booked call
- Daily budget = monthly ÷ 30.4
- A plain-language line: "To close 4 clients a month you need about 23 booked calls and $2,990 in ad spend."

Free Meta Ads Budget Calculator

[Working calculator here, usable without sign-up]

How to use the Meta ads budget calculator

1. Enter the number of new clients you want each month. Use a number your team can actually deliver.
2. Enter your close rate on sales calls. Take it from your CRM: deals won divided by calls held over the last 90 days. If you don't know it, keep the default.

3. Enter your show rate. This is calls held divided by calls booked.
4. Enter your cost per booked call. If you have never run ads, use the default from our cost per booked call benchmarks.
5. Read the result. The calculator shows the calls you need and the monthly and daily Meta budget to get them.

What the results mean

The budget is a starting point, not a cap. In the first 2 to 4 weeks, Meta is still learning and your cost per booked call is usually higher than the benchmark. Plan for that.

Small budgets struggle to exit learning. Meta needs roughly 50 optimization events per ad set per week to stabilize. If your budget only buys a handful of booked calls a month, optimize for an earlier event, such as a submitted application, and qualify after the lead comes in.

Close rate moves the budget more than ad costs do. Going from a 15% to a 30% close rate halves the calls you need, and so halves the budget. That is why qualification and follow-up matter as much as the ads.

Q4 costs more. CPMs in October to December run about $36.80 to $54.20, against $18.40 to $24.80 in Q1 (Meta ads CPM benchmarks). Add 30% to 50% to a Q4 budget.

How to fix common issues

- Budget too high for your margins? Raise your close rate first. Pre-call qualification and a short VSL homework step usually lift it. See appointment setting.
- Cost per booked call above $200? The funnel is usually the problem, not the ads. Check landing page conversion and application drop-off. See VSL funnels.
- Lots of bookings, few shows? Reply in under 5 minutes and send reminders by SMS and WhatsApp. See speed to lead and the show rate calculator.
- Not sure the numbers work at all? Check your unit economics with the LTV to CAC calculator.

FAQ

How much should I spend on Facebook ads per month? Work backwards from the clients you want. With a 25% close rate, a 70% show rate and a $130 cost per booked call, 4 new clients need about 23 booked calls, or roughly $3,000 a month. This calculator does that maths for your numbers.

What is a good daily budget for Meta ads for a high-ticket offer? Most high-ticket lead generation campaigns need at least $[fill in] a day to collect enough data. Below that, results stay noisy for months.

Is Facebook ads budget the same as Meta ads budget? Yes. Meta Ads Manager runs Facebook, Instagram, Messenger and Audience Network from one budget.

Does this calculator include your agency fee? No. It only estimates ad spend, which you pay directly to Meta. See pricing for how our fee works.

Where do the default numbers come from? From our 2026 benchmarks, which aggregate more than $50M in managed Meta ad spend across 125+ client accounts. Replace them with your own numbers when you have them.

How to Hire an Appointment Setter (2026 Guide)

To hire an appointment setter, first decide what the setter will own: inbound follow-up, outbound outreach, or both. Then write a scorecard with measurable targets (speed to lead, booking rate, show rate) and test candidates with a live role-play. Pay a mix of base and per-show commission, and give them a script, a CRM and a 2-week ramp.

What does an appointment setter actually do?

An appointment setter turns leads into booked, qualified sales calls. In a high-ticket business, that means:

- Replying to new leads within minutes by phone, SMS, WhatsApp or DM
- Asking qualifying questions about budget, timeline, decision-maker status and fit
- Booking qualified leads into the closer's calendar
- Confirming and reminding, so booked calls actually happen
- Logging everything in the CRM

A setter is not a closer. Setters protect the closer's time, and closers sell. See outsourced sales closers for the other half of the team.

Do you need a setter, a VA or an agency?

Option	Best when	Watch out for
In-house setter	You have 100+ new leads a month and a sales manager to coach them	Hiring, training and churn are on you
Virtual assistant	You need admin help, not selling	VAs rarely qualify well. See appointment setter vs VA
Appointment setting agency	You want setters, scripts, CRM and AI follow-up as one system	Check that you own the CRM and the data

If you are below about [fill in] leads a month, AI follow-up plus a part-time setter is often enough. See appointment setting for how we run it.

Step 1: Write a scorecard before the job ad

List the 3 to 5 numbers the setter will be judged on:

- Speed to lead: first reply in under 5 minutes during working hours
- Contact rate: share of new leads reached
- Booking rate: share of contacted leads booked
- Show rate: share of booked calls that happen. The cross-industry average is 58.2% with email-only confirmations, and much higher with fast SMS and WhatsApp follow-up (show rate benchmarks).
- Qualified rate: share of held calls the closer marks as qualified

Step 2: Write the job description

Include the offer and price point, the lead sources, the hours, the tools (CRM, dialer, WhatsApp) and the pay plan. Be specific: "Call inbound leads from Meta ads for a $5,000 coaching program within 5 minutes" attracts the right people. "Sales role, high earning potential" does not.

Step 3: Source candidates

- Referrals from closers and sales communities
- Job boards for remote sales roles
- Your own customers or community members who already believe in the offer

[fill in: the sourcing channels QualifiedLeadsX actually uses, if it wants to share them]

Step 4: Interview with a role-play

Skip the long interview. Run a 10-minute role-play: you play a lead who filled in the form but is hesitant about price. Score the candidate on:

1. Did they reply with energy and use the lead's name?
2. Did they ask about the problem before the price?
3. Did they qualify budget and decision-maker status without sounding scripted?
4. Did they book a specific time, or just "send a link"?

Step 5: Set the pay plan

Common models are base plus per-booked-call, base plus per-show, and commission on closed deals. Paying per show, not per booking, stops calendars filling with no-shows. We compare the models in appointment setter compensation models.

Step 6: Ramp them for two weeks

- Week 1: shadow calls, learn the offer, practise the script, and book with supervision
- Week 2: own a share of inbound leads, with daily call reviews
- Then: weekly scorecard reviews

How much does a booked call cost with a setter?

It depends on lead cost and setter performance. In our accounts, qualified booked calls for $3,000 to $25,000 offers usually cost $90 to $180 all-in (cost per booked call benchmarks). Model yours with the cost per booked call calculator.

FAQ

How many leads can one appointment setter handle? It depends on the channel and lead quality. A full-time inbound setter with AI-assisted follow-up can work [fill in] new leads a month. Track speed to lead: if it slips past 5 minutes, you need more capacity.

Should an appointment setter be commission only? Commission-only setters tend to leave when leads are slow and to book anyone when they are fast. A small base plus a per-show bonus keeps them steady and honest.

What skills matter most in an appointment setter? Speed, curiosity and discipline in the CRM. Charisma helps, but a setter who replies in 2 minutes and logs every lead beats a charming setter who replies tomorrow.

Can AI replace appointment setters? AI handles the first reply, reminders and simple qualification well, and it never sleeps. People still book more high-ticket calls when a lead has questions. Most of our clients use both. See speed to lead.

4. Related-links block rules (STEP 4)

Implemented in `lib/related-links.ts` and rendered by `components/sections/RelatedLinks.tsx` above the footer on every page, in the server HTML. Anchors are descriptive. Result: every indexable page has at least 5 internal links in (`npm run seo:links`: 0 orphans, 0 low-inbound pages).

Location page	6 nearby locations, 4 industries, 3 core services, 2 guides	Other 3 countries + /locations hub, 4 industries common in that market, 3 services, 2 guides	To add when /locations pages ship (week 3)
Industry page (/for/x, /meta-ads-for-x, /appointment-setting-for-x)	6 sibling industries (same sector first), 4 locations, 3 core services, 2 guides	Services for the industry (other variants of the same industry first), 6 siblings (same service, then same sector: coaching, B2B, professional/local), 2 industry guides. Locations: added in week 3.	Live
Core service page	6 related services, 4 industries, 4 locations, 2 tools	6 neighbouring services, 4 industries (/meta-ads-agency and /appointment-setting list their own industry pages; others rotate through the /for pages), 2 matching tools, 2 guides. Locations: added in week 3.	Live
Tool / benchmark page	All other tools, 2 matching services, 2 guides	All other tools (or benchmarks), 3 of the other kind, 2 matching services, 2 guides	Live
Blog post	3 related posts, the pages the post supports	3 related posts from the same category (rotated), up to 3 services the post supports, matching industries, matching tools	Live
Case study	(not in playbook)	4 other case studies (rotated), 3 services, 2 guides	Live
Comparison / mastermind	(not in playbook)	6 core services, 2 tools, 2 guides	Live
Home, hubs, legal, booking	-	No block: hubs already list every child page	Live

5. Sitemap, robots.txt and llms.txt (STEP 5)

Next.js route handlers, prerendered as static files: `app/sitemap.xml/route.ts` (index) and `app/sitemap-{core,industries,locations,content}.xml/route.ts`. URLs come from `lib/sitemap-entries.ts`, which lists indexable, self-canonical pages only. Lastmod comes from the git date of each page's source (`npm run seo:lastmod`), never the build date. Current counts: core 33, industries 31, content 48, locations 0. The locations file stays out of the index until location pages exist. Action: resubmit https://www.qualifiedleadsx.com/sitemap.xml in Search Console and Bing Webmaster Tools after this ships.

6. Week-by-week rollout (STEP 6)

Weeks run Monday to Friday. Week 1 started on Monday 9 November 2026. The exact pages and URLs for each week are in `reports/playbook-page-plan.csv`, in the "Build week" column.

Week by week

Week	Dates	Build	Pages
1	9 to 13 Nov	Done: audit, sitemap split, robots.txt, llms.txt, related-links block on every page, titles under 60 characters, meta descriptions under 155, no keyword collisions, every page with 5+ internal links in	Foundation
2	16 to 20 Nov	New /pricing. Upgrade the thin core pages to the core template: /crm-automation, /outsourced-sales-closers, /whatsapp-lead-nurture, /speed-to-lead, /lead-generation-agency, /high-ticket-lead-generation, /b2b-lead-generation, /vsl-funnels. Add pricing and industries sections to /meta-ads-agency and /appointment-setting.	1 new, 10 upgraded
3	23 to 27 Nov	/locations hub and 4 country pages (US, UK, Canada, Australia), once facts 1 to 4 are in. Upgrade the first 10 industry pages: /for/coaches, consultants, agencies, b2b-services, saas, financial-advisors, med-spas, law-firms, real-estate-investors, business-coaches.	5 new, 10 upgraded
4	30 Nov to 4 Dec	Upgrade the remaining 8 /for pages and the 8 /meta-ads-for pages. Build 2 tools: /tools/meta-ads-budget-calculator and /tools/close-rate-calculator. Expand the existing tools to 600+ words below the calculator. City pages only where fact 5 confirms real clients.	2 new, 16+ upgraded
5	7 to 11 Dec	Upgrade the 4 /appointment-setting-for pages. Build the 10 new service-for-industry pages, in batches of 5, once fact 16 is confirmed for each.	10 new, 4 upgraded
6 onward	From 14 Dec	2 blog posts a week (the 8 planned posts first, then expand the thin posts), 2 to 3 tools a month (/tools/speed-to-lead-test, /tools/funnel-conversion-calculator, /tools/appointment-setter-commission-calculator), then expand whichever page type wins in STEP 7	Ongoing

Note on the date: weeks 4 to 6 fall in Q4, when Meta CPMs peak. This affects ad clients, not SEO, but holiday weeks slow content approvals. Plan human edits early.

Daily routine while pages are going live

1. Publish the day's pages: merge to `main`, and Hostinger deploys.
2. Open each page with JavaScript off (`curl -s URL | grep "<h1"`, or view source) and check that the full text is in the HTML.
3. Request indexing in Search Console. The manual tool has a daily limit, so do hubs and core pages first. Or run `npm run index:google -- <urls>`; the Indexing API quota is 200 a day and is shared with the other project.
4. Ping IndexNow: `npm run index:now` (add the new URLs to `scripts/submit-indexnow.mjs`).

5. Add the new pages to `lib/related-links.ts` and to their hub page the same day. Location pages also need a "Where we work" group added to the service rules.
6. Log the URLs in the tracker, then run `npm run build && python3 -I scripts/playbook-audit.py && npm run seo:links`. The page must show "keep", with 5+ internal links in.

7. Weekly measurement checklist (STEP 7)

Weekly measurement checklist (every Monday)

In Search Console, Performance, last 7 days compared with the previous 7:

- [ ] Filter pages containing `/locations/`: record impressions, clicks and average position
- [ ] Filter pages containing `-for-`, and separately `/for/`: same three numbers (industry pages)
- [ ] Filter pages containing `/tools/`, and separately `/benchmarks/`: same three numbers
- [ ] Filter pages containing `/blog/`: same three numbers
- [ ] Everything else (core): same three numbers
- [ ] Work out impressions per page for each type (impressions ÷ number of live pages of that type)

In Search Console, Indexing, Pages, filtered by sitemap:

- [ ] For sitemap-core.xml, sitemap-industries.xml, sitemap-locations.xml and sitemap-content.xml, record indexed vs not indexed
- [ ] If more than 20% of a group is "Crawled, currently not indexed", stop publishing that type. Add unique content to the existing pages first, because they are too similar.

Decide:

- [ ] Expansion rule: the page type with the most impressions per page gets the next batch. If locations win, add cities where fact 5 confirms clients. If industries win, add more service-for-industry pages.
- [ ] Queries in positions 8 to 20: in Performance, Queries, filter position > 7.9 and < 20.1. Add each relevant query as an H2 or FAQ question on the page that ranks for it, then request reindexing.
- [ ] Cannibalisation: if two URLs get impressions for the same query, pick one primary page and point the other to it with an internal link, or merge the two.
- [ ] Re-run `python3 -I scripts/playbook-audit.py`: "merge or differentiate", "shorten title", "shorten description" and "add links" must all be 0.

Track it here (one row per week):

Week	Type	Live pages	Impressions	Clicks	Avg position	Impr per page	Indexed %	Crawled not indexed %

8. Facts still needed ([fill in])

Nothing below has been guessed. Each item blocks the pages named next to it. Do not publish those pages until the item is answered and a person has fact-checked the page.
